COMMISSIONER EISENBERG'S DECISION
Hearing on Appeal from Sewer Assessments Occupied the Entire Day—Visit Made to the Property.

The entire day was spent on Wednesday by the commission appointed by Judge Case to hear the objections in the appeal from the sewer assessments for the South, Division and North Main street sewer. The hearing was held in the common council chamber, opening at 10 o'clock. The commission includes General W. Allen, Honorable R. Abbot and Walton C. Davenport. Those who object to the assessments are Charles F. Reynolds, Ernest A. Cherry, Elizabeth M. Cherry and Jeanette Cherry, and the amounts they were assessed were respectively $55.70, $22.34, $22.34, and $46.32.
Corporation Council Briscoe appeared for the city, and Attorneys Barnes and Thresher for the plaintiffs.
Civil Engineer Chandler was called and showed a blue print of the premises and explained it.
When questioned by Attorney Barnes, Mr. Chandler said that the plans were made on request of the committee on public works. In reply to the question whether the city had acquired the right to go across the property of John Donovan, John Dodd and others on Roath street, with the new sewer, Mr. Chandler was finally allowed to say that it was considered that the people on Roath street were not benefited nor damaged. He did not think that the cost of the sewer to the various people was estimated separately.
City Clerk Crockett read the records of the court and told the council's action. Lawyer Briscoe did likewise.
Civil Engineer G. E. Pitcher affirmed that the sewer in the street was for the benefit of the property, that the old culvert that formerly drained the place was broken, that the surface water was not taken off, and the residents asked for relief. When the street was raised some time later the water flooded the Reynolds and Cherry lands, and because the sewer main is 18 inches above the surface of the ground it is useless. He said that it interferes with Mrs. Cherry's planting her large garden, upon which she depends for her living. The conditions at present are worse than ever and Mr. Pitcher admitted that this area could be drained into Reynolds street. Mr. Pitcher said that the city had no right to go through the land and the rear of Roath street. Mr. Pitcher said a good catch basin would drain the land, and though he admitted that no one could repair the old drain, the objects desire relief and not a sewer.
Ernest E. Cherry said that the sewer is of no use and that the city did not intend to drain the land, because the catch basin the sewer might be made of would not repair the old drain for a building lot the conditions would be acceptable.
Charles F. Reynolds, who has 72 feet of frontage, said there was no trouble in the street, and he was not in the street, and after looking over the property and the location of the sewer they returned, and the arguments were made by the attorney for the city. After hearing the arguments the commissioners reserved their decision.

TOWN MANAGEMENT OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS.
New Law Went into Effect July 15 Which Concerns All Towns Without Chartered Districts or Cities.
There is being sent throughout the state by the state board of education chapter 146 of the public acts of 1909, an act concerning the town management of public schools, which is of interest to many towns in this vicinity, as it affects all towns without chartered school districts or all towns which do not have a city within its limits.
In such towns the districts are all consolidated and all business formerly done in the districts must be done in town meetings. Probably the schools will be maintained, but the district lines amount to nothing, the committee being given the power of the town board of education. The board of school visitors will become the town school committee. From the 15th of July, 1909, until the next annual meeting of the school visitors and the chairman of the committees of the district within the town shall constitute a joint board.
The school committee shall, in general, have all the powers and perform the duties both of district committees and boards of school visitors, except in so far as such powers and duties are inconsistent with the provisions of this act. They shall maintain in their several towns good common schools, of the different grades, as required by law, and in their judgment shall best subserve the interests of education, and as shall give all the scholars of the town as nearly equal advantages as may be practicable. They shall have charge of schools heretofore organized or maintained by their respective towns; they shall appoint a chairman and secretary, who shall respectively perform the duties and exercise the powers now pertaining to the chairman and secretary of the boards of school visitors or to the chairman or more acting visitors or a superintendent to exercise, under their direction, a supervision over schools; they shall have the care and management of buildings, lands, apparatus and other property used for school purposes; they shall determine the number and qualifications of the teachers to be employed in each school; they shall employ a requisite number of qualified teachers, but shall make no contract for a longer period than one year; they shall designate the schools which shall be attended by the various children within their several towns, and shall make such provisions as will enable every child of school age, residing in the town, who is of proper mental and physical condition, to attend some public day school for the period required by law, and they may provide for the transportation of children wherever transportation may seem reasonable and desirable, and they may arrange, if they see fit, with the committee of an adjoining town for the instruction therein of such children as can attend school in such adjoining town more conveniently.
Norwich is not affected by the act, but can take advantage of it if it is desired.

OBITUARY.
George F. Dunn.
George F. Dunn died Tuesday at his home, No. 21 Centre street, Haverford, aged 49 years. He had been employed at Colt's armory for thirty-five years. Besides his wife, Mr. Dunn leaves two sons, William H. Dunn of Meriden and George F. Dunn of Norwich, and a stepson, Charles J. Got Fishhook in Finger.
William St. John of Thompson had the misfortune to get a fishhook lodged in the little finger of his right hand Tuesday afternoon while on a fishing trip with Capt. Charles T. Potter and Percy Chapman of Norwich. The accident happened several miles from Noank and as soon as it was found that surgical aid was necessary all possible haste was made to that port where a doctor cut the hook out and dressed the wound. Mr. St. John's fortitude during the time the hook was in his finger was remarkable.
The accident happened just in the best part of the fishing, but not until about forty blackfish had been caught. The horses of the Sudan wear socks of camel's hair.

Was Visiting Daughter in Newark, N. Y., When Killed.
It was learned on Wednesday that Elder Church was in New York state on a visit to his daughter, and that he had decided to visit to Rochester to see that city and was on his way when struck by a train. Death was instantaneous, his right leg being broken and nearly severed from the body and his skull was fractured.
In spite of the fact that he owned a farm in New York state and one in Colchester, he had all the tendencies of a knight of the road, and boasted of being able to go about the country at an expense of ten or fifteen cents a day. Although he has a daughter in Western and one in Newark, N. Y., he claimed East Greenwich, R. I., as his home and from that village made long trips through the country, where for years he has been a familiar figure.

Shakespeare Wins Again.
The result of the pool game between Shakespeare, McKarvey and Henry Gage of Taftville, held Tuesday night at Shakespeare's, was a win for Shakespeare.
